Steamboat Explosion—Indian Matters.

CHICAGO, May 14.—The steamer Lauzing exploded her boilers yesterday in the Mississippi river, ten miles above Davenport. Six persons were killed and six others severely wounded. Sidney A Hubbell, district Judge of New Mexico, had his leg broken and was otherwise injured. His condition is not dangerous. The boat is a total loss. Cause of the explosion unknown. The boat took fire and sunk in the guards. Portions of the wreck were found five hundred rods from the boat. The explosion occurred just as the boat was leaving the wharf. One man was left on three hundred yards, alighting in a village and is still alive.

A correspondence with Gen Hancock's expedition gives a long account of the council between Hancock and Stumbo, the principal chief of the Kiowas at Fort Larned, on the 1st of May. The chief's speech was full of professions of peace and promises to keep his young men quiet. He charges Col Leavenworth with selling a quantity of goods belonging to the Kiowas for his own benefit. Leavenworth replied that he had kept back the annuity under orders from Washington. Stumbo thought Hancock did wrong in burning the Cheyennes and Sioux villages. Hancock answered that he did so because the Indians lied and acted treacherously. Similar conduct of other Indians would meet with the same chastisement.

CHICAGO, May 14.—The loss by fire last night is stated to be $200,000. Another fire occurred this morning, and a woman and child narrowly escaped being burned to death

Jeff. Davis Again.

NEW YORK, May 14.—Davis' recognizance was signed by Greeley and Schell of New York, Aristides Welch, and David Jackman, of Philadelphia, W. H McFarland, Richard Barton, Isaac Davenport, Abraham Warwick, Geo A Mayers, Wm. W. Camp, Amos Lyons, John A Meredith, Wm. H Lyons, G M Hollis, Thomas W Bosewell and James Thomas, of Virginia. Davis is to appear in Circuit Court on the 9th Monday in November

The Tribune says Greeley went first to sign the bond, after which he was accosted by Davis and they conversed for several minutes, for the first time in their lives. They seemed glad to see each other. Greeley's name was hissed in the court room

Judge Underwood, before admitting Davis to bail, received an anonymous telegram as follows: Beware of Greeley. Remember Libby Prison, Andersonville and Belle Isle. Fifty millions looking on three hundred thousand patriot graves cry aloud for revenge

The Times' special says that blanks left in Jeff Davis' bonds were filled in by the signatures of Jewett, Smith and Cornelius Vanderbilt. During the signing of his surrender Davis received congratulations on all sides and shook hands commencing with N Harrison, his own private Secretary. The streets were filled and hats were removed. Davis drove quickly to the Spottswood House and found there a few personal friends. Dr Mcadow offered a prayer of thanksgiving for the release and future protection of Jeff Davis. He telegraphed to his brother, Joseph C Davis, in Mississippi, of his release. He visited the grave of his son in Hollywood Cemetery, and in the evening he went aboard the steamer. He sails for New York in the morning and goes from thence to Canada, where his children are at school.

Canada Matters

NEW YORK, May 14.—The Executive Council of Canada met yesterday to determine the list of Senators for Quebec and Ontario.

Burton and Doran, Fenians, were sentenced to be hanged on the 29th of May. Burke's speech to the Court commanded universal attention and is highly praised. It is considered by many to be as eloquent as the address of Emmett.

BOSTON, May 14.—The ship Continent was abandoned at sea in a gale on the 10th. The crew were brought to Boston. Her cargo consisted of 2,000 bales of cotton, 32,000 staves and $8,000 in specie.

NEW YORK, May 14.—It is stated that the Grand Jury at Norfolk has indicted Jacob C. Cazenove, Judge Advocate of Fairfax, and four others, for treason

NEW YORK, May 14.—A new brick building on Thomas street was this evening nearly gutted by a stroke of lightning. Damage, $5,000. One man was seriously hurt, and three others were slightly injured. A storehouse in Brooklyn was struck by lightning and burned. It contained $8,000 bags of saltpetre, and 11,000 bags of nitre of soda. Loss, about $30,000. The bark Louis was burned and a boy drowned at the same time. Several other places were struck by lightning to-day. Hail fell during the storm

CHICAGO, May 14.—A special dispatch from Leavenworth saying "White Turkey, Chief of the Delawares, came to town to-day from the plains, and he says thirteen tribes are banded together to make war on the whites. He says they are bent on war, whatever professions they make in council, and they are well armed with rifles and carbines. The Indians strongly oppose the extension of the railroad through Arkansas valley. They say the buffalo and antelope will be scared away and the Indians will be left to starve. White Turkey is certain that there will be a bitter Indian war this season. Sherman is at Junction City. Custer is at Fort Hayes with fifty companies of cavalry. Hancock will probably call on Governor Crawford, of Kansas, for troops in accordance with the general desire to have western men to fight the Indians.

NEW ORLEANS, May 13.—Commissioners from Washington are here to enquire into affairs of the National banks and sub-treasury. Nothing will be lost by the Government. The Superior Court has decided that notes for negroes sold before the war are invalid. The decision involves many millions.

HAVANA, May 8.—The Ocean Home was given up by the Cuban government on payment of a fine of $12,500. The situation of the bark is worse than it was on April.

NEW YORK, May 14.—The Herald's special says there is good authority for stating that a heavy fraud on the treasury has been discovered in the currency bureau. Eighteen thousand five hundred dollars were purloined, consisting of $50 and $100 notes on the National Bank of Jersey City.

The Tribune's special from Washington, says that a deputation of Irish Americans waited on the President, asking the Government to intercede in behalf of the Fenians, who claim American citizenship. The President promised to submit the petition to the Cabinet to-day.

Mr. Helm, the Kentucky Democratic candidate for Governor, professes that he is willing to forgive the Kentuckians who went into the Union army, if they sincerely believed it was their duty, although he holds it very wrong. He said in a late speech

THURSDAY MORNING MAY 16 1867

Prospects of the Wool Crop

From a few and just down from Albany we learn that a small number of farmers and wool growers assembled there a day or two since and resolved not to sell their wool unless they could obtain 25 cents per pound On the other hand we understand that the manufacturers and buyers both here and from California refuse to pay more than 20 cents

It occurs to us that the wool growers here may possibly push matters too far in the direction of high prices for their own good Before there was any woolen mill on this coast and even for several years after the Salem mill was in operation the price of wool was 15 cents a pound, this being the highest figure that would justify its shipment to Eastern or European markets Since other mills have been put in operation the price has ranged from 18 to 22 cents Thus it will be seen that the building of mills and the manufacture of goods on this coast has been of great advantage to the wool grower in enhancing the price of his products

But it must not be forgotten that our manufacturers have to compete with Eastern manufacturers who are constantly sending their goods to this coast and carrying away the money obtained from their sale Our manufacturers here have to pay higher wages in coin than Eastern manufacturers pay in currency Now unless they can buy their wool about as cheap as it can be purchased in the New York market they will be compelled to stop, and wool will only command the price which will justify its shipment to the East, which is not over 16 cents Then in order to determine whether the offer of 20 cents made by the Oregon and California millsis a reasonable one, it is only necessary to inquire what the various grades of wool are worth in New York

A memorandum which we published a few days since on this subject was based on a circular more than a month old, which quoted the best grade at 50 cents in currency, but our attention has since been called to the fact that at the same time the telegraph dispatches showed that the best grade was worth only 26 cents in currency Two days later the dispatches showed that there was an advance to 30 cents. Only two days ago, however, the telegraph gave information that the price had receded to 23½ cents per pound for the best grade From these dispatches it may fairly be inferred that the average price of the best grade of wool in New York is 25 cents in currency, which is equal to about 18½ cents in coin at the present rates for gold, quoted in the same dispatches

Some days since we were led by incorrect information into the statement that the Oregon City mill intended to run night and day as soon as the new clip of wool was received, the inference being that it did not now do so because of a lack of material On more particular inquiry we learn that the mill has plenty of the old clip to last until the first of June, and is now receiving of the new And one of the Board of Directors informs us that instead of it being their intention to run night and day, they are now debating the apparent necessity of closing down altogether for a period of 30 to 60 days until the accumulated stock of goods can be sold, and that they will at any rate stop one full set of machinery after a few days At present this mill is running on only ten hours time, yet it does not sell its fabrics as fast as produced, though they are desirable and popular as any in the market We hear that the Salem and Brownsville mills are also considering the necessity of shutting down for a time in order to dispose of accumulated stocks

We believe the manufacturers feel that it is impossible for them to run their mills and compete with Eastern goods if they have to pay more than 20 cents for wool The other alternative is to close their mills altogether, which would be ruinous to the wool growers and highly detrimental to the interests of the whole State

Our only purpose is to lay the whole truth in regard to the matter before our readers of all classes, and we hope that the wool growers, manufacturers and buyers may be able so to adjust prices that all may not only live but prosper.

Protection for Loyal Officers

Those impecunious Confederates who have suits pending against loyal officers for military arrests, will gnash their teeth on learning that their cherished hopes of getting even "compensatory damages" have no longer a foundation. They will curse a recent act of Congress with quite as much heartiness as they rejoiced on the occasion of the assassination of Abraham Lincoln No further opportunity will they have to "bleed" loyal officers for doing their duty towards the inciters of sedition and the applauders of murder No greenbacks, none of the "rag money" of this Abolition Government, will these seedy malignants hereafter obtain by appealing to the Courts The following law, published as a general order by the War Department, will convey information which certain constitutional Democrats will not be at all gratified to hear

WAR DEPARTMENT, ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE, WASHINGTON, March 21, 1867

General Orders No 26.

The following Act of Congress is published for the information and government of all concerned

"An Act to declare valid and conclusive certain proclamations of the President, and acts done in pursuance th reof, or his orders, in the suppression of the late rebellion against the United States.

"Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America, in Congress assembled That all acts proclamations and orders of the President of the United States, or acts done by his authority or approval, after the fourth day of March A D 1861 and before the first day of July, A D 1866, respecting martial law, military trials by court-martial or military commissions or the arrest, imprisonment and trial of persons charged with participation in the late rebellion against the United States or as aiders or abettors thereof, or as guilty of any disloyal practice in aid thereof or of any violation of the laws or usages of war or of affording aid and comfort to rebels against the authority of the United States and all proceedings and acts done or had by court-martial or military commissions or arrests and imprisonments made in the premises by any persons by the authority of the orders or proclamations of the President, made as aforesaid, or in aid thereof are hereby approved in all respects legalized and made valid to the same extent as if said orders proclamations had been issued and made and said arrests imprisonments, proceedings and acts had been done under the previous express authority and direction of the United States, and in pursuance of a law thereof previously enacted and expressly authorizing and directing the same to be done And no civil Court of the United States or of any State, or of the District of Columbia, or of any District or Territory of the United States shall have or take jurisdiction of, or in any manner reverse, any of the proceedings had or acted on as aforesaid nor shall any person be held to answer to any of said Courts for any act done or omitted to be done in pursuance of or in aid of any of said proclamations orders or by authority or with the approval of the President, within the period aforesaid and respecting any of the matters aforesaid and all officers and other persons in the service of the United States, or who acted in aid thereof acting in the premises, shall be held prima facie to have been authorized by the President; and all Acts and parts of Acts heretofore passed inconsistent with the provisions of this Act are hereby repealed

Approved March 21 1867

By order of the Secretary of War

E D TOWNSEND, Asst Adt General

This is broad enough to cover every case It prevents any more prosecutions like that of McCall against McDowell, and affords full protection to the faithful officers of the Government The particular point on which Judge Doady decided against McDowell—namely, that the arrest of McCall not being made by order of the President was illegal—cannot again arise Every arrest made by persons in the service of the Government is to be regarded as if such arrest had been made by authority of the United States All such acts shall be held prima facie to have been authorized by the President" Confederate patriots everywhere can take notice.

In the late election in the State of Rhode Island the total vote was 16 250 The Republican State ticket got 4 188 majority, showing that the vote was the next thing to unanimous One of the Republican Congressmen was elected by 4 301 majority and the other by a majority of 1,200 In a Legislature consisting of 104 members there are only 14 Democrats

The philosopher of the N Y Tribune is becoming tolerably well known to his countrymen If there is any one who is engaged in the sensation business more extensively than Greeley, a lucky observer could undoubtedly make a speedy fortune by pointing the person out Greeley's appearance at Richmond and his ostentatious affectionateness in going first on the bond for the appearance of Jeff Davis next November is quite characteristic of the man There is something sensational in it, and it is evident that the old philosopher is still troubled with vanity For years he has been engaged in such projects as would give him notoriety as witness his secession sentiments before the war his On to Richmond' when the war began, his begging for 'peace on the best attainable terms' in the second year of the struggle, his ridiculous Niagara Falls conference in 1864, and his complete-amnesty doctrine as soon as the rebellion had closed The most imperfectly balanced great mind in the country is that of Horace Greeley He can contend for principles in a most earnest manner until they are pushed to the point of actual collision with their opposites, when he immediately surrenders to the enemy everything he has contended for He fights till his adversary shows its teeth when he instantly abandons the contest Strangely contradictory as it appears, Greeley is nevertheless one of the most influential, and at the same time least trusted men in the country

The dismissal by the Supreme Court of the Georgia injunction case deprives the minority of another reliance What will they attempt next? LOUIS A GARNETT President and Manager.
JOHN NEWSTON Jr. Chemist and Superintendent.

THIS COMPANY HAVING GREATLY enlarged their Refining Works, and introduced many other important improvements, are pleased to announce that they feel warranted in again reducing materially their terms of doing business.

THE TARIFF OF CHARGES

Which they now submit to the public considered with reference to the cost of material and labor—is lower than in any other part of the world, and is due to the mining interest of this coast as important increase in both the minting and commercial value of bullion.

Their charges hereafter will be as follows:

FOR ASSAYING DEPOSITS FOR UNPARTED GOLD BARS

One eighth of one per cent (heretofore a quarter) for all amounts over $1,000, and two dollars for any smaller sum Returns made in twenty-four hours

FOR ASSAYING DEPOSITS FOR UNPARTED SILVER BARS.

Two dollars for the gold contained, up to $1,000, and one-eighth of one per cent, for all amounts over that sum, and one per cent on the silver contained Returns made in twenty four hours

FOR REFINING DEPOSITS MADE FOR COIN OR FINE BARS

On bullion under 300 parts gold, 2 cents per ounce.

On bullion from 300@600 parts gold, 4 cents per ounce

On bullion from 600@750 parts gold, 6 cents per ounce

On bullion from 750@940 parts gold, 8 cents per ounce

Above 950 the only charge will be for coinage But there will be no charge for refining less than two dollars.

FOR COINING GOLD

This charge will be the same as at the Mint—a half of one per cent—and which is paid by us to that institution But there will be no charge in future for making the gold or silver bars from bullion refined by us

RETURNS IN COIN IN FORTY EIGHT HOURS.

Silver contained in deposits for coin will be accounted for at the same rate customary at the Mint

Gold bars of other Assayers, in good standing, will be cashed by us at the highest market rates

Dust and bullion can be forwarded to us from any part of the country, and returns made through Wells, Fargo & Co's Express

CHARGES AT U S BRANCH MINT

For the convenience of those not familiar with the terms of the Mint we subjoin the tariff of charges now in force at that institution

For refining bullion under 200 parts gold, 3 cents per ounce

For refining bullion from 200@600 parts gold, 5 cents per ounce

For refining bullion from 600@750 parts gold, 7 cents per ounce

For refining bullion from 750@880 parts gold, 11 cents per ounce

For refining bullion from 880@940 parts gold, 14 cents per ounce

The charge for coinage is half of one per cent, and the charge for making fine silver bars, the same

Comparing the net value of deposits for coinage, with the proceeds of unparted gold bars sold in the market—as it is that the bars have cost ½ of one per cent. they turn which would have been made had they been deposited for coinage

$20 per to equal Mint return, at refining charge of 14 cents

$15 per to equal Mint return, at refining charge of 14 cents

$15 per to equal San Francisco A & R Works return, at refining charge of 8 cents

Also a petition from Moses Soller praying for a deduction of $10,000 on the assessment of his personal property for taxes. Referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES.

The Committee on Ways and Means, to whom was referred the petition of D. S. Burnsides, relative to refunding money paid into the City Treasury on the purchase of lots 7 and 8, in block 34, for city taxes, reported favorably on the prayer thereof, and recommended that a warrant be drawn on the treasury for the sum of $400. Adopted.

The same Committee, to whom was referred the remonstrance of A. D. Shelby and others, against the proposed change of grade on Third, between Montgomery and Harrison streets, reported favorably to the prayer. Adopted.

The same Committee, to whom was referred the remonstrance of Thomas Stephens and others against the proposed improvement of A street, reported favorably upon the remonstrance, and recommending that the work be abandoned on that part of the street, and on motion of Councilman Zieber the further consideration of the report was laid over and made the special order for the next meeting.

The Committee on Health and Police, to whom was referred the bill of Dr J. S Glitner, for services rendered the small pox patient, reported that the bill was too much, being double the price charged by other physicians for similar services The report was adopted, and on motion, the clerk was directed to draw a warrant on the treasury for $30—one-half the amount charged.

REPORTS OF OFFICERS.

A communication and report was received and read from the City Surveyor, reporting an estimate as previously instructed by the Common Council, of the proposed improvement of North Front street—between the north line of C and north line of E streets—which was, on motion, referred to the Committee on Judiciary.

CLAIMS AGAINST THE CITY.

Bills of Smith & Hire, for repairs of fire apparatus, $11 50, and Joseph Bennett for $11, were read and referred to the Committee on Fire and Water.

Bills of the Oregon Herald Association for city printing, amounting to $14 and Mills & Thomas for painting sign and bulletin board for Auditor's Office, $5, were ordered paid.

NOTICES OF ORDINANCES.

An ordinance to amend an ordinance to impose and regulate licenses within the city, was read 1st and 2d times, and laid over under the rules.

Councilman Hallock offered the following resolution and moved its adoption:

Be it resolved by the Common Council of the City of Portland, That the Honorable Mayor be and is hereby authorized and instructed to correspond with Col. Williamson, United States Engineer, and inform him of all facts in possession and facts at hand relative to the nature and condition of the bars of the Willamette river, both at Swan Island and the mouth of said river; the amount of and cost of the work that has been done by the city, and the urgent necessity of prosecuting it at an early day. And further, that the Mayor is empowered to inform Col. Williamson, in the event he shall proceed to expend the appropriations made by the United States ... for the purposes intended, the use of the ... apparatus belonging to the city free of charge, ... he shall keep the same in thorough repairs. ... that he is further instructed to withdraw the pre... dredging Swan Island Bar, made under resolution of the Common Council, ... 1867. Adopted. The Council adjourned.

GRAND LODGE, I. O. O. F.—The twelfth annual communication of the R. W. Grand Lodge, I. O. O. F., of Oregon, commenced in this city yesterday morning at nine o'clock. The Grand Officers present were Wm. Morton, Grand Master; J. T. Bloomfield, Deputy Grand Master; A. J. Day, Grand Warden; G. N. Terry, Grand Secretary, and Chris. Taylor, Grand Representative. George M. Wood, Grand Treasurer, was absent. The following is a list of the delegates elect, of which number forty-four were present yesterday:

Fern Chemeketa Lodge, No. 1.—Wm. M. Laughead, Wm. B. Zeiber, John Y. Wilson, Geo. H. Chance, H. D. Wood.

Multnomah, No. 2.—H. C. Coulson, J. C. Kingsley, W. V. Upton, John P. Walker, Wm. Braden, C. H. Marvin, Wm. Morton, W. H. Weirel.

Oregon Lodge, No. 3.—W. P. Burns, J. M. Bacon, F. Beckman, A. Warner, A. J. Marshall.

Albany Lodge, No. 4.—F. Russell, Thos. Monteith, E. H. Griffin, J. H. Douthit.

Columbia, No. 5.—Jos. Elfelt, A. W. Ferguson, F. W. Myers

Friendship, No. 6.—T. M. Thompson, W. C. Whitson, Barnum.

Philharian, No. 8.—None present.

Spencer Butte, No. 9.—S. Ellsworth, A. S. McClure, H. Poledexter, E. L. Bristow, John Kelly.

Jacksonville, No. 10.—Wm. Hay, Silas J. Day, Geo. P. Peck.

Blue Mountain, No. 11.—Geo. Bollenger, Jno. R. Roy.

Umpqua, No. 12.—None present.

Lumbermen, No. 13.—Henry Deullinger, R. C. Crawford, J. W. Smith.

Douglas, No. 14.—None present.

Rogue River, No. 15.—E. T. Rees, L. Goodman.

Multnomah, W. T., No. 2.—Wm. M. Shelton,

Tennessee, W. T., No. 3.—L. P. Robinson, Levi Douthit.

Pioneer, W. T., No. 4.—None present.

The most of the day was spent in receiving the reports of Grand Officers, by which it appears that the Order throughout the jurisdiction, is in an unusually prosperous condition. The membership, during the year, has increased largely, and several new lodges have been instituted. It is probable that to-day and to-morrow, the number of delegates in attendance, will reach over sixty.

THEY WON'T HAVE HIM.—It will be remembered that not long since, an insane man named Littell, who came here from Idaho, in charge of a Mr. Walling, was sent back to Boise City from Portland, in charge of ex-sheriff Bowen. Nothing his arrival at Boise City, the World says: On his recent trip from Portland, ex-sheriff Bowen, of this county, brought back to Ada county the insane man Ezekiel Littell, who killed his own father near Boise city last winter. The Ada county authorities employed a man named Walling to convey the insane patient to the Portland Insane Asylum, as he had been ... from that institution uncured, and belonged in Oregon. It seems that Walling left him in the Portland jail, where he remained until he was started back for Boise City under charge of Mr. Bowen. The order for his return was made by the County Judge of Portland, who insists that the insane man is a resident of Ada county, Idaho. We learn that the Ada county authorities will require him again to the Portland Asylum, satisfied as they are that he is actually a resident, in legal point of view, of Oregon. He is represented as a very dangerous person, and whatever disposition is to be made of him, he ought not to be let go at large. We believe his brother lives near Boise City."

MUNICIPAL COURT.—The following cases were disposed of in the Recorder's Court yesterday, the 15th:

Jacob Marks, accused by A. C. Winslow with unlawful ... and appropriation of a pair of pants; tried; ... and, by Recorder, if acquitted.

Mary Clayton, charged with breaking the peace of the ... by using indecent language on the street, Sunday ... defendant pleaded a former conviction of the ... offense; after a hearing, the Recorder decided that ... charged was the same as that for which de... had been convicted and fined the day previous, ... judgment of imprisonment. The complainant's wit... Charles Lee, was lazed with the costs of suit.

Jack Gilman was tried, convicted and fined $20 and ... for disorderly conduct on Front street, on Tuesday. ... an aggravated case of loud and foully indecent ...guage.

The hearing of a charge against Jack Gilman for stealing a pair of boots, was continued till this morning

BOISE CREEK DIGGINGS.—In the last number of the Statesman the following letter from the Canyon City correspondent under date May 6th: "A rumor circulated this ..., which, if it proves to be true, will give a new ... to our county, and energy to the slumbering enterprise of our mining community. The news is this: That some soldiers have found rich prospects somewhere within twenty or thirty miles from Dixie creek, (about fifty miles from here) also that they found there wagon tires, ... yokes, etc., and the remains of a buried child. If ..., this may be the place described by some emigrants, ... were at this place about twenty years ago. Parties from Idaho have started out for this new El Dorado, and ... will soon know if the statements above are corroborated or not. Since the latter was written there are some ... contradictory reports, and, we learn, considerable excitement exists at the Dalles and Canyon City and many are starting for the locality of the new diggings.

A BEAUTIFUL PICTURE.—We were shown, yesterday, at the ice-cream saloon of Messrs. Nixon & Schramm, a beautiful water-color painting, executed by Miss C. Irene Smith, a pupil of the Sisters' School in this city. The design is copied in part from a small lithograph entitled "The Betrayal." It is however, somewhat altered from the original, and, to our taste, much improved. A mother has just gifted the little chubby hands of her child with bright, ruddy shaded peaches and clusters of grapes and now holds together cluster for above the reach of the little one, with an expression of face which says, "Don't you wish you could get it?" The child, like a child, lets fall half its store to reach upward for the new offering, and in this attitude of dalliance and entirety, the mother and child are sketched. The young artist has certainly here given us great promise of future success and we shall be surprised if she does not achieve distinction as an artist.

RE-PROMOTION.—Capt. T. J. Eckerson, arrived ... on Monday evening from San Francisco, where he had been spending some weeks It will be remembered he was ... and before an army Retiring Board. He was not, however, retired, and upon reaching home, found awaiting him a Brevet Major's commission in the Quartermaster's Department of the U. S. Army, given him for long and faithful services. Major Eckerson entered the army at the age of seventeen, served fifteen years in the ... and has been fifteen years a captain His military career has been throughout, an honorable one to himself and useful to the government, and his promotion is well deserved. He is now under orders to attend a court of inquiry at Fort Ripley, to which post he will start on Friday.

WAY FREIGHTS.—Arrived per steamer Senator from Oregon City, Wednesday, May 15th 45 bf bbls of dried apples, 10 boxes produce, 5 hf bbls do., 130 gunnies ..., 1 coop chickens, 30 bales hay, 600 bags wheat, 5 ..., 1,483 sks feed, 4 bales woolen goods, 4 boxes butter, 1,100 eggs, 8 pieces machinery, and a lot of lumber.

A CHAPTER OF ACCIDENTS.—Passengers who came down the river on the steamer Enterprise, tell a graphic story about the succession of accidents which befel her in the region of the "heavy dews." Among other things, she ran under the overhanging limbs of a tree and demolished her smoke stack; then she swung round and struck fast on a log; backing off from that, she ran her wheel against a stump and reduced that useful appendage (the wheel) to a pile of splinters. However, despite all this and much more, the gallant little steamer rode the raging main, as a one-horse poet says, "like a thing of life" and arrived Tuesday evening at the Oregon City locks, badly scarred and battered and torn, but far from disabled. The Enterprise has gone through that sort of thing often

COACH, CARRIAGE AND WAGON MATERIALS.—Mr. R H Law, who has lately returned from the Eastern States, has now on hand and is constantly receiving a great variety of Coach, carriage and wagon materials, eastern axle and hickory lumber, etc., etc From his stock may be selected almost anything in the hard wood line that can possibly be wanted in this country His materials have all been selected with great care and can be relied upon as real No 1 stuff Give him a call, at the corner of First and Oak streets

THE ENGINE HOUSING AT VANCOUVER.—We learn from Vancouver that the ceremony of housing the engine of Gen Allen Co No 3, Tuesday evening, was rather imposing. The 14th Infantry Band led the procession, which included Gen Allen Co. and Vancouver Engine Co No 1 with their respective engines, and the firemen generally of the Department. At the engine house, after the housing, there were ample supplies of refreshments, and as the best of feeling prevailed, the firemen had a rather big time generally

U. S. DISTRICT COURT—DEADY JUSTICE.—Wednesday, May 15th. Isaac Wagner, defaulting witness discharged on payment of costs of attachment

Samuel Lowenstein, same as above.

Mrs. Mary Watts and Mrs. Mary McQuade, witnesses, discharged on cause shown.

U. S. vs. I. A. Davenport; motion for discharge of defendant on verdict of jury argued and submitted. Court adjourned.

A NEW COURT-ROOM.—A movement is on foot among the officers and jurors of the U. S. District Court and the members of the bar, to procure a better court room than the one now in use. We learn that a paper representing the inconvenience and unfitness of the present court room signed very generally by all interested, will soon be forwarded to the Secretary of the Interior, with a request that a more fitting place be provided

FIRE ALARM.—About half past seven o'clock last evening a house on Yamhill street, between Third and Fourth, was discovered to be on fire in the roof about the chimney. An alarm was rung and the fire companies were quickly on the ground, but fortunately their services were not required, the fire being extinguished by means of buckets of water.

ARRESTED.—W. R. Hill was arrested last evening on two complaints lodged by G. Mitchell, a merchant on Front street—one charging an assault and battery, the other, threats against complainant. Both complaints will be examined before the Recorder this morning.

BACON AND HAMS.—The San Francisco papers, received per steamer Idaho, give discouraging accounts of the market for bacon and hams. The stocks on hand are large, demand very limited, and prices nominal There is nothing to encourage shipment.

SUNDAY SCHOOL PIC-NIC.—The children of the Episcopal Sunday School of this city, are to have a pic-nic to-day They will meet this morning at the church, at 8 o'clock, and will proceed thence across the river to the grounds selected for the festive exercises.

CRADLE OF DAY.—Mr. A. B. Richardson wishes it known that his next regular sale will be on Friday, instead of Saturday, the usual day. On Saturday, he goes to Oregon City to sell Mr. Barlow's remaining stock of goods.

PACIFIC SHIRTS.—Barman Bros., agents for the Pacific Shirt Manufactory, have received a large stock of them. Measures for shirts taken and shirts made to order.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC.—From and after this day the well-known FRENCH LAFAYETTE RESTAURANT will serve a first-class table at the reduced price of Seven Dollars per week.

Something New in Dental Surgery.

Extracting teeth by Dr. Richardson's apparatus, with Ether or Rhigolene Spray, is local in its application, the tooth and surrounding parts only becoming insensible to pain. Those suffering from bad teeth can now have them removed free from pain and without the effects of inhaling chloroform, ether or nitrous oxide (laughing gas).

N. B.—To strangers I would say, that a constantly increasing Dental Practice for the last 5 years in this city, will be a sufficient guarantee for them to receive a First-Class and Finished Piece of Work. Numerous testimonials to the same can be given at the Office.

SADDLES!

BRIDLES, WHI

Lasting Beauty

You say "we're growing old," love, and fancy you can trace
A line that's half a wrinkle, where a dimple once had place
You stand before the mirror and toss your tresses o'er,
And fancy they are losing the lustre that they wore,
And say "Ah surely dearest, if truth must aye be told,
Both eye and I are gently and hourly growing old"

I smile because the roses still burn upon your cheek,
And youthful grace and vigor in all your movements speak
Yet still in the confidences creeps o'er me unaware
Fey youthful eyes are pleasant, and youthful hopes are fair
And fun out of doors would hurry where the laughing streamlets flow,
Amid the rush and sparkle of the summer's fervid glow

But the eye will lose its brightness, the cheek its ruddy glow
The wavy midnight tresses be blanched to wintry snow
The step will lose its lightness the voice its ringing tone
And the arm its dimpl'ess during when the summer days are gone,
But little will it matter to either I or you
If the soul still keeps its freshness, the heart be warm and true

If underneath the surface sweet streams go rippling by,
What matter if den I roses among the sedges lie!
If the years have gathered fragrance, if rarer sweets distill
If in the faded casket fresh flowers are blooming still,
If the harvest days are golden why need we sadly sigh,
That the changeful skies of soul time go swiftly speeding by?

O friend, with whom I've gathered the first sweet flowers of May
And plucked the opening roses of life's sorrower day,
Learn with me this sweet lesson no blight of space or time
Can mar the royal beauty that lives in deeds sublime
And fairer far than blushes or statuless brow of snow,
Are the tender flowers of feeling, which in the bosom glow.

NASBY.

NASBY AND THE NEGRO VOTE—NASBY, IN IMITATION OF WADE HAMPTON, TRIES TO CONCILIATE THE AFRICAN.

PORT OFFIS, CONFEDERIT X ROADS,
(Wich is the Stait of Kentucky,)
March 28, 1867.

I hev made many sudden and rather 'stroordinary changes in politix—some so very sudden that the movement perdoost conjestion uv the ceri sheuse I rekollect wunst uv advokatin free trade and high protective tariff, all within twelve hours (made a speech in a agricultooral deestrix uv Noo York in the forenoon at 10 A. M., and in a manufacturin town in Pennsylvany in the evenin, our platform bein so construkted that both sides cood find a indorsement in it), and hev performed many other feats uv moral gymnastiks, but this last change I hev bin called upon to make is probably the suddenest. Last week, Tuesday, Deekin Pogram, Captain McPelter and I was engaged in ridden the Corners uv niggers. We had endoored as much as we thot possible, and determined uv standin it no longer. Selectin three wich we wuz satisfied had too much spellin-book into em to be enslaved agin, we wus preparin notises to be served rite on, orderin em to leave in 24 hours, when I received in the northern mail a letter marked "Free—Alex. W. Randall, P. M. G." I knowd it wus offishel to-wunst—that bleasid signatoor is on my commishun, and contemplated it too often to be mistaken in it. Its contents wuz brief, and runs thus:

"To all Postmasters in the Southern States: The niggers hev votes; cunsiliashun is our best holt. See to it."

This breef cha not hard to be understood order wus sealed with the offishel seal uv the Post Offis Department stampt into putty instid uv wax, to wit: a loaf of bread under a roll of butter, with 2 hands a grabbin at it. I comprehended the situashen at sitc, and set about doin my dooty with both Roman and Spartan firmness. "Deeklo," sez, I, tearin up the notices, "these niggers we hev misunderstood. They are not a inferior race—they are not descendents uv Ham and Hagar—it wuzn't Paul's idee in sendin back Onsimus to kondomn him to servitood—we hev misunderstood the situashen and must make amends. The nigger is devoid of smell and is trooly a man and a brother!"

"Wat?" sed the Deakin, tippin back in amazement.

"Jest wat I say," sez I, "read that," and I flung him the letter.

The upshot of the conference wich followed was the callin uv a meetin the next nite, at wich all the Ethiopians uv the Corners wux invited and urged to be present.

The trouble wux to git the niggers to attend the meetin. The first one I spoke to laft in my face, and askt how long it wux since I had helpt hang a cupple uv niggers by way of finishin off a celebrashun. Pollock, the Illinois storekeeper, got hold uv it, and told Joe Bigler, and Joe swore that of the naggers hadn't any more sense than we giv em credit for, in aposin we cood bamboozle em as sheep, he shood go back to the old beleef, to wit: that they was only a superior race of monkeys after all; and by nite every nigger in the vicinity wux postild thoroughly, and out ne all uv em I cood only git four who would promise to attend, and the Deakin had to pay $2 apiece to. To give it colaw I promised one uv em $5 (to be paid at the close uv the meetin) to sit on the stand with me, wich, bein a very poor man and hevin a sick wife in a shanty near by who was sufferin for medicine (wich he coodn't git without money), he accepted.

At this pint an idee struck me. I remembered Philadelfy, and determined to have a scene rivalin the Couch and Orr bizniz. "Another thing, Cuff; understand that it's a part uv the bargain that when in my speech I turn to you and stop, you must rise and embrace me."

"What?" sez he.

"Fall into my arms, lovin like—you understand—jist as if we wus long lost brothers!"

"'Scuse me," sed he. "I'se a mity low nigger, and wants to buy de ole woman some quinine, and wood do moe' anything fora dat, but, golly, dat's too much!"

"Not a cent," sed I, sternly, assoomin my most pierciest gaze, "unless this is inclouded!"

"Well," returned he, sullenly, "ef I must, I speck I must, but golly——"

The nite arrived and the meetin-house wuz full. We thot fust uv holdin it in the chapel uv the College, but give up the idee as impracticable, ez, owin to the dillytorinis uv our Northern friends in forwardin sich subscriphons as they hev raised, we hevn't got no further with the bildin than layin the corner-stun. In the front wux the four niggers, all in clean shirts, and on the stand wux the nigger I had engaged. Over the platform wux the follerin mottoes:

"In Yoonion ther is strength—for President in 1868, Fernando Wood. For Vice-President, Fredrick Duglas."

"In the nigger—strength—in the Caucasian, beauty—in the mulatter, who is trooly the noblest uv the human species—both."

In addition to these, we dug up all the old mottoes wich Jefferson writ, about yoonliversal liberty and sich, wich hedn't bin quoted in Kentucky for twenty years, and postid em up; in brief, hed Wendell Phillips' blessed spernit bin a hoverin over that meetin-house, it wood hev smiled approvingly.

I spoke to em elokently on the yooniversal brotherhood uv mankind, holdin that whatever else cood be sed, Adam wus the father uv all mankind, and that the only difference between a white man and a nigger wux, the nigger was sun burnt. The nigger, I remarkt, wuz, undoubtedly, originally white, but hevin bin, since his arrival in this country, addicted to agricoltooral persoots, he had becomo tanned to a degree wich, tho it marred his phizikle beauty, did not interfere with his sterlin goodness of harte. Ther had ben differences between the races—at times there had been unpleasantnoses wich no one regrettid more than I. The whites uv the corners hed not allus bin ex considrit ez I cood hev wished. They had flogd several uv em and hung many more, and in times past had held em in slavry and sich, but ther shood not be thot uv at this happy time. It was constooshonal to do these things then, and Kentucky was eminently a law-abidin State "Here," sez I, "on this platform, with the flag uv our country over me, I declare eternal friendship to the black man, and to seel the declaration I thus embrace—"

The obstinat nigger didn't stir a step

"Come up and fling your arms round me you black cuss," sed I in a stage whispor, "Come up"

"No yoo dont boss!" sed the nigger, in a loud voice, which was audible all over the church, and holdin out his hand "I can't trust you a bressed minit Gib me $5 fust. You owe dis chile fi ah dollars now fo' sawin wood fo' yoah post offis, and ef wo's gwine to hab our rites de fust you see I shel put mine to will be gittin dat money. Pay up fus, and de 'brace afterwurd. I can't do such a disagreeable ting widout de cash in advance"

This rither destroyed the effect. The unities wusn't preserved. The niggers in front bust out in a torturan laff, and Pollock and Bigler rolled in convulsions of laffture, in wich half uv our people joined. Me n standin petrified, in the attitood uv embracin and that cussid nigger standin with his hands extended for the money, with the Deakin and Basdom horror struck just behind, formed a tablou wich was more strikin than pleasant.

The meetin wux to wunst adjourned, for it wux evident to the dullest comprehenshen that nothin more cood be done that nite. Ex yoosual I failed for want uv capital. Hed I been possest of the paltry sum uv five dollars how different wood hev ben the result! Perchance we may, thro the deliksheny, lose Kentucky. It must never occur agin—my salary must be raised I can't make brix without straw.

Joe Bigler met me next mornin and remarkt that he regretted the occurrence, ez he ordentily desired to see the two races a pullin together "The fault, Perfesser," sed he, "wur in not man agin properly The next time you want a 'spoot able nigger to sit on the platform with yoo and the Deekin or kiss or embrace yoo, git him drunk He'll do it then, probably—I know he will. If he's drunk enuff he'll hurrah for Johnson, and its pussible to git him down to the pint uv votin with you. Lord! how whisky drags a man down. See wat its brot yoo to!" and the insultin wretch rolled off laffin boisterously "Git em drunk, Perfesser," he yelled ez long ez he could see me.

We don't intend to give it up Bigler's advice wux given in jest, but nevertheless I shel act upon it Whisky is yet brings white men to us and ef a white man can be thus capshored, why not a nigger! The Afrikin hero't got ez far to fall to bring him down to our level, and it'll take less to bring him up. Bascom ordered five barrels to day, wich I spose the Administrashen will pay for. We have yet the Noo York Custom House, and more uv the perkesites must be yoosed for politikle purposes.

Mrs. Perry, the Pardon Broker.

We find in a Washington letter to the Cleveland Leader, the following in reference to this noted woman:

The inquiry now, everywhere, is, "Who is Mrs Perry?" The first knowledge that I had of her in this city was about the close of last summer, or some time in autumn She had a claim in one of the Departments, I am told, as the widow of a deceased naval officer. She evinced all the tact, talent and energy of a good collector of claims She followed up the matter day after day, and, meanwhile, seemed to be extending her acquaintance very widely. She did not seem to allow any punctilio to impede her operations, or contract her limits.

She seemed to be endowed with the capacity of smiling all around her, and with the ability of pouring forth any amount of small talk, both of which she showered upon all within speaking distance, without regard to acquaintanceship or formal introduction. She dressed with considerable neatness and taste, is above the medium size, and exhibits a good deal of gayety, pretension and deportment. She disappeared quite suddenly from this city, and the next news of her came through the Cincinnati papers, connecting her, among others, with Jesse Grant in something approximating the flagrante delicto condition of things. Finally she appeared in the Departments again, all of a sudden, in February last. It was said she had a room in a building not used as a regular dwelling or a boarding house. She expressed a disposition, in her excursions or incursions into the Departments, it is said, sometimes to meet her gentlemen "friends" at her room. During her last visit, her vivacity and gayety were redoubled But, as a cry of fire in the night, she disappeared again, turning up in New York, in company—as regards some transactions financially—with names not unknown to fame, and truly "that had been glorious in another day."

A New York weekly journal called The Stockholder and Monitor of Finance, throws the following additional light upon this dark subject:

An ex-member of Congress from this city, familiar with dirty paths in politics, heard that Mrs. Perry had influence in the highest place in Washington. The lady, then at Cincinnati, was sent for, and left her business in that city, such as it was, abandoning there at the time, a young girl of her household, not, we believe, claimed as her daughter. Mrs. Perry, subsequently returning to Cincinnati, sought to resume the custody of this girl, but the Court (in a case reported in all the papers) denied the her application on the ground that she was not a proper person to have charge of a young girl. There is some further scandal to the effect that a relative of Mrs. Perry—a daughter—sustaining relations to the son of a person in high place, so intimate that the best proof which nature supplies and the law recognizes was not wanting to establish the character of the connection. But of this no further. Suffice it to say that Mrs. Perry, having journeyed to Washington, made her appearance presently at the New York Custom House, under the instructions of her ex-Congressional mentor, with certain demands for "plunder." Her claims were not then recognized. She accordingly made another journey to Washington, coming back this time with full powers. The second credentials were found full and in due form, and her name was put upon the slate accordingly. She got, we are told, but $500; she was "down," it appears, for $8,000. Who was to have the money that was got through the manipulation of Mrs. Perry to this end? Our suspicion is that it was to go to the enterprising ex-Congressman and his "ring," and was concealed under entries to the Senators named. This is only conjecture, but it offers better elucidation of this aspect of the wretched affair than anything which has yet come under our eye.

SALMON INSTINCTS.—The salmon, when out of condition and unfit for human food, goes down to sea. And what does he do there? Not a single human being knows what he does; but we do know that he goes down a poor, miserable looking, lean thing, but comes back a plump, fat, jolly, silver-scaled fellow. How he manages to get so fat is no business of ours; that is his look out. We only know that he finds good food in the estuaries of rivers; and a most curious thing it is in the history of salmon that, as the swallow returns to her own nest, the bee to its own hive, or the pigeon to its own dove-cote, so the salmon always returns home to its own river, if not captured or destroyed by its numerous enemies during the journey. The best instance of this has been communicated to me by my friend the Earl of Dunmore. He caught on his property in the Isle of Harris, in the Hebrides, some twenty or thirty fish. These he marked and carted alive in his yacht to the opposite side of the island, where they were turned into a lake. In the course of the same season in which they were transported, it was ascertained that some of these very fish had come, bagain, all the way home, a circuit of forty miles at least, through the pathless waters of the broad Atlantic. They must, in their course, have passed the mouths of six or seven rivers, up which they did not ascend, though there was nothing in the world to prevent them. Such is one of many instances of the wondrous power which guides salmon back to their own river. This faculty we call "instinct," a word not nearly expressive enough. I much wish some one would suggest a better. One reads that the salmon seeks fresh water to get rid of the parasitic insects—the sea lice of the fishermen. This, in my belief, is a simple accident. I attribute his journey to a much higher cause. The ultimate object of the salmon is to get to the upper waters to lay their eggs; for no salmon ever has or ever will breed in the sea, although an old Act forbids pigs to be allowed to wander along the shore at certain seasons because they eat the salmon eggs. An impulsive instinct teaches the salmon that in order that its young should hatch and thrive, the eggs must be deposited in gravel, and that shallow, rapid and cold water must pass over them. These conditions are to be found only in the upper tributaries of a river, and it seeks them accordingly The fish, having performed its task of building its nest and laying its eggs, returns to the sea to recruit its strength.—Frank Buckland.

EX-REBELS.—There are soured, sullen, discontented, restless ex-rebels at the South, who insist that everything must go to the bow-wows, and do their best to verify their predictions. Of these, the women who boast that they never made a bed nor swept a room till after Lee surrendered, are the most intractable, but some of the ex-guerrillas, who unfortunately escaped being shot in the war, with more of the "bomb proofs," who have only waxed belligerent since the fighting was over, are pretty bad. Those ruffians commit outrages and delight in misdemeanors which scandalize and deeply annoy their peaceful neighbors. They are a general nuisance.

MURDER IN DENVER.—A telegram from Denver announces that Paul Coburn, formerly Superintendent of Holladay's stage line, killed a man named Hammer a short time ago. Hammer was a messenger for Wells, Fargo & Co., between Salt Lake and Denver. It appears that as Coburn was passing along the street, Hammer made the remark, "There goes a d—d Montana Vigilante," which Coburn overheard Hammer went into a billiard hall, and was playing, when Coburn returned. The latter seized a cue, and with out any words whatever, struck Hammer on the back of the neck, breaking it, and causing instant death. Coburn was arrested and is now in jail

BIG BELT.—The Blackstone Manufactory, at Blackstone, Mass., recently stated 10,000 new spindles, and have in operation 55,000 spindles and 1,200 looms in the manufacture of prints and sheetings, with a force of 1 500 hands The motive power of one of the factories—equivalent to 20 000 spindles—is conveyed by a single belt, which is 200 feet long 9 inches wide, weighs 900 pounds, and required the hides of 30 oxen to make it.

A clergyman gave the following toast that was not very gallant, at a late firemen's celebration "Our fire engines—may they be like old maids—ever ready, but never wanted!"

Terrible Earthquake in the Moluccas—Forty Thousand Lives Lost

[From the German "Ausland des Ausland."]

The 28th of November, 1861 will long be remembered by the inhabitants of Ternate, who, since the year 1841, did not experience such a fearful eruption of the volcano as that which happened on this and the following day About 10 o'clock we heard a subterranean noise accompanied by several shocks of an earthquake rapidly following each other, but not lasting longer than three or four seconds Being accustomed to such phenomena I did not take any notice of them, and indulged, as usual, in my afternoon siesta, when I was aroused in the most disagreeable manner At 3 o'clock there followed, in rapid succession, such violent shocks that their noise can be compared only with the thundering of a heavy battery on board of a man-of-war. Fright ened to the utmost degree, I jumped from my couch, a sultry and oppressive atmosphere filled the room which had become almost as dark as in the night.

When I looked through the window I perceived that the grass before the house had disappeared under a heap of ashes and stones, which still were coming down in great masses I quickly dressed myself, and under the cover of the corridor I repaired to the neighboring barracks, where I ordered the soldiers—fortunately most of them were Japanese, who are not as easily frightened by such occurrences as Europeans—to take their ranks and march off to the subterranean casements, which afforded safer shelter against the rain of ashes and stones than the light roof of the palm tree leaves wherewith the barracks were covered. But here the heat became so suffocating on account of the sulphurous exhalations, and within less than half an hour the ground was covered with ashes to the depth of two and a half feet, so that I already resigned myself to be buried alive under them, like the unfortunate inhabitants of Pompeii and Herculaneum. My Japanese soldiers—who happily, were not acquainted with the fate of those ancient cities—in consequence of their Mohammedan fatalism, kept their countenances, squatting on the ground, their arms in their hands, and constantly murmuring, Allah il Allah; Mohammed rasul Allah!

Now it was no longer possible to distinguish whether it was daytime or night; it was really a fearful situation. Besides the anxiety natural to such circumstances, we were all of us tormented by the most violent thirst. At last, about half-past 12 A M, we again perceived the stars in the sky, which had cleared up, and leaving our sheltered place, we again breathed the fresh air

Although it was a still night, we could observe that the ground was covered with ashes about from five to five and a half feet, the roof of the barracks had given away, and all the branches of the trees were torn off. But it was only with the rising sun that the complete spectacle of death and destruction presented itself before our eyes. In the campongs (farms) men and animals had perished, and the houses crumbled down. In an eastern direction came flowing down out of the crater of the volcano a stream of burning lava, destroying whatever it met in its way. Eighty lives had fallen victims of this fearful earthquake and eruption. On the 29th, in a southwestern direction, another shock took place, which lasted 6 or 8 seconds. From the bastion of the fortress we saw between the Islands Tidor, Ternate and Badjun, the sea in the most fearful commotion; at 6 o'clock P. M., it rose to such a height that our fort, which is 20 feet above the highest elevation of the water, was entirely inundated.

On the next day, a schooner brought the news that, on the 28th, in the island of Makain, belonging also to the group of the Moluccas, not far from Ternate, the volcano had completely burst asunder and buried the whole Island with all its inhabitants. Immediately our commander, with the President and myself, determined to take on board of the steamer Bathca which was at our disposition, some of the soldiers, and to sail there in order, if possible, to bring them some succor, and to carry back a small post stationed there. But all in vain! Such a complete destruction of all the vegetable and animal life, without an exception, as on that doomed island, was never known, even in these zones, where destruction by earthquakes and other volcanic eruptions is a common occurance. The ever active volcano on Makian had completely burst, as if severed by a mine, and covered the island with its fiery mass, so that not even a trace of vegetation, of any buildings or any living creature was to be found there; 40,000 men had been buried under the ruins of this fiery colossus!

AMERICAN LADIES.—"What do you say, now to our ladies?" said to me a bluff Yankee, as we sat last night under the verandah, here in the hotel at Saratoga.

"Charming!" of course, I answered, "pale, delicate, bewitching, dashing and radiant.

"Hoo!" cried he, putting up his hands; "they are just not worth a d—n. They can't work, they can't ride, they can't nurse."

"Ah, you have no wife," said I in a soothing tone

"A wife?" he shouted. "I should certainly kill her."

"With kindness?"

"Ugh! with a poker. Look at these chits here, dawdling by the fountain. What are they doing now, what have they done all day? Fed and dressed. They have changed their clothes three times, and had their hair washed, combed and curled three times. That is their life. Have they read a book, have they sown a seam? Not a bit of it."

"How do our ladies put in their time?" I asked.

"They put on boots, tuck up their skirts, and bark away through the country lanes. I was in Hampshire once; my host was a duke; his wife was out before breakfast with clogs on her feet and roses on her cheeks; she rode to the hunt, she walked to the copse; a ditch would not frighten her, a hedge would not turn her back. Why, our women, poor, pale"

"Come," said I, "they are very lovely."

"Ugh!" said the saucy rascal, "they have no bone, no fibre, no juice; they have only nerves; but what can they expect? They eat pearlash for bread, they drink ice-water for wine; they wear tight stays, thin shoes and barrel skirts. Such things are not fit to live, and, thank God, in a hundred years not one of their descendents will be left alive.—From "New America," by W. Hepworth Dixon.

MORRISSEY.—It is said the fighting Congressman will oppose any attempt which will be made to tax the winnings of our faro-banks, on the ground that salaries of Congressmen cannot be twice taxed. A western editor was once arrested for drunkenness. He pleaded that the case was barred from the fact that he had six months previously been arrested for drunkenness. "What has that to do with it?" asked the Mayor. "To do with it," responded the accused, "can a man be tried twice on the same offense? This, your Honor, is the same old drunk." He was released.

AN ANTIDOTE FOR POISON.

THE PAIN KILLER.—Rev T Allen, writing from Tavoy, Burmah, says: "Within the past four years I have used and dispensed of about five hundred bottles, but am now out. Please send me a fresh supply as soon as you can—any two hundred bottles I dare not be without it myself, and there are endless calls for it, both by Burmans and Karens I always take it with me into the jungles and have frequent occasion to use it, both on myself and others One night, while sleeping in an open Zayats, I was awoke by a most excruciating pain in my foot On examination, I found I had been bitten by a centipede. I immediately applied the Pain Killer, and found instant relief In less than an hour I was again asleep"

"Rev Mr Hibbard, writing from Burmah to his father, says "I have used Davis' Pain Killer for coughs, colds, summer complaints, burns, and for the sting of scorpions, with uniform success We always keep it where we can lay our hands on it in the dark, if need be" ap20dlte
